The City of Kingsport's government is based upon the Council-Manager form of government. This form of government was established in 1917 when the City was re-incorporated into what is now known as the modern city of Kingsport.

The City is governed by a seven member Board of Mayor and Aldermen, elected at-large and on a non-partisan basis for four-year staggered terms. The exception to this rule is that the Mayor is elected at-large for a two year term. Elections are held in May during odd numbered years. The new Board of Mayor and Alderman is seated on 1 July of each election year.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen for 2019 was comprised of the following individuals: Mayor Patrick Shull, Vice Mayor Colette George, Alderman Jennifer Axsom Adler, Alderman Darrell Duncan, Alderman Betsy Cooper, Alderman James Phillips, and Alderman Tommy Olterman.

INTRODUCTION

Kingsport Police Department, ca. 1950

In 1822 the town of Christianville and the town of Rossville combined to form the incorporated town of Kingsport. The second oldest town in Sullivan County, Kingsport was considered the largest and most influential City in the county. Almost 100 years elapsed before Kingsport officially became a City in March 1917. Until that time, all law enforcement was performed by constables and the Sheriff of Sullivan County. Upon being notified that the City had been chartered, the new governing body appointed George Barger as Chief of Police and three additional officers, W.P. Flora, A.R. Hagy, and Sam Barger, to serve and protect the City of Kingsport. Sullivan County Deputies W.W. Leedy and S.P. Devault were also still assigned to patrol the City.

The City of Kingsport has had fourteen Police Chiefs since its charter, the current being Chief David Quillin. Currently, the Kingsport Police Department has one hundred and twenty sworn Officer Positions, eight Corrections Officers, twenty-two Telecommunicators, and eleven civilian positions variously assigned. The department serves a population of slightly over 53,000 citizens. The City encompasses 53.55 square miles, the majority of which is inside of Sullivan County, with the westernmost edge in Hawkins County. Officers patrol 500.34 miles of streets, which include 25.53 miles of interstates.

The Kingsport Police Department also operates the City's 911 Communications Center. The department is unique in that it is one of the few municipal police departments in the state that operate an in-house city jail. In 1989, the police department moved into the current Justice Center. Shortly after this move, the department was able to achieve an important goal by obtaining national accreditation through the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA). The Kingsport Police Department was the first law enforcement agency in the East Tennessee region, as well as being only the third agency in the entire State of Tennessee, to achieve this honor.

Operations Bureau

Patrol Division

As the backbone of the police department, the Patrol Division is divided into four rotating platoons. These four platoons are responsible for responding to citizens' complaints, handling calls for service, initiating police investigations, and enforcing traffic laws. With additional specialized units supplementing the Patrol Division, the Kingsport Police Department answered 66,054 calls in 2019 compared to 69,585 in 2018. This is a decrease of 3,531 calls, or -6.1%.

As a result of these calls and investigations, 5,597 adults and juveniles were either arrested or issued a misdemeanor citation in lieu of arrest.

Operations Bureau

Patrol Statistics

Calls for Service

Calls for service (CFS) represent all calls handled by KPD. These include 911 calls and non-emergency calls. CFS does not take into account the amount of work needed to complete varying types of calls. The amount of time to handle each CFS can range from a few minutes to thousands of hours for significant incidents.

Arrests

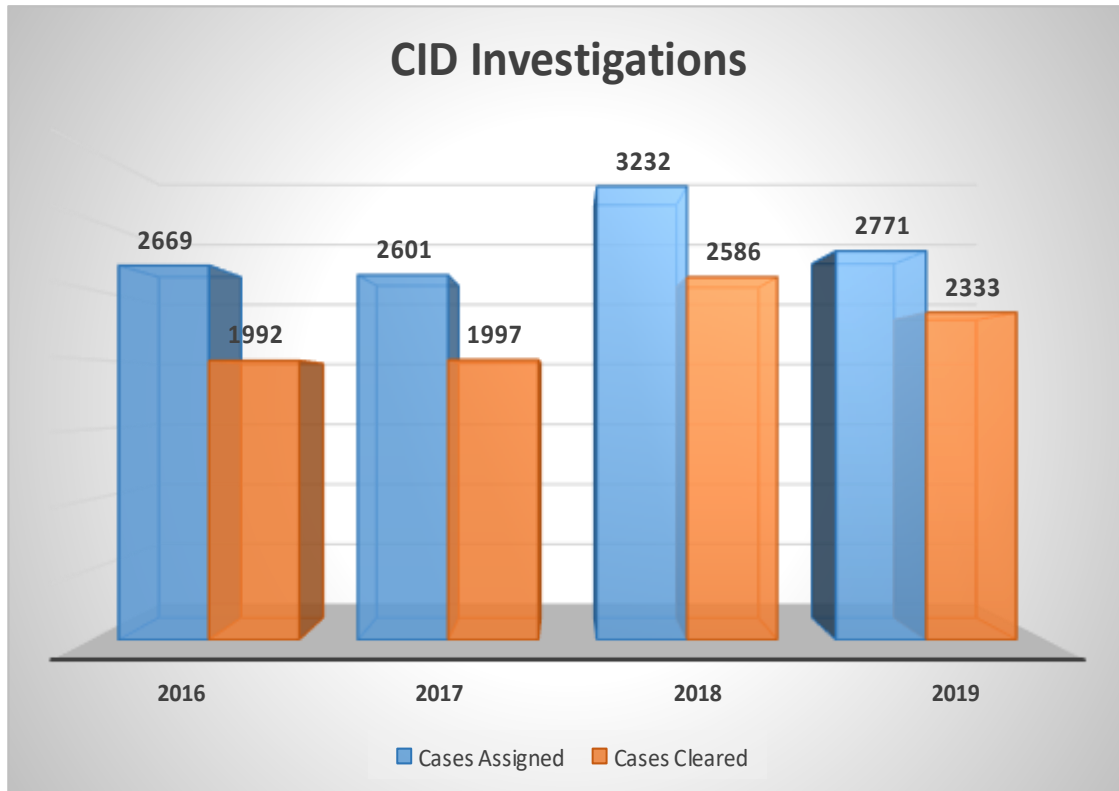

Non-custodial arrests are arrests where the suspect is arrested then released on a misdemeanor citation. Custodial arrests are arrests made where the suspect is arrested and subsequently transported to the City Jail or the Sullivan County Jail.

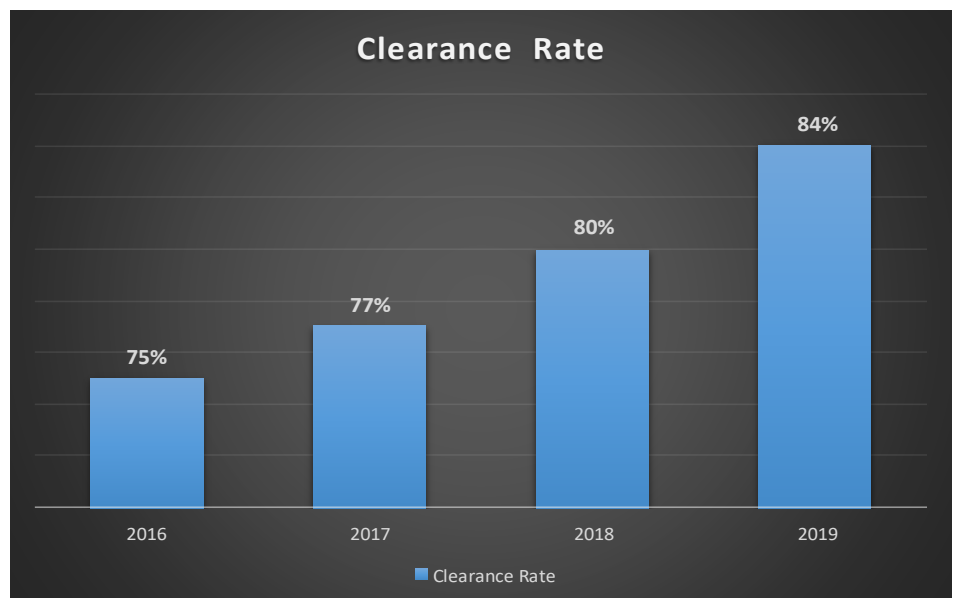

Operations Bureau

Criminal Investigations Division

The Criminal Investigation Division, (C.I.D.) is responsible for investigating all major crimes in Kingsport. The detectives assigned to the Criminal Investigation Division investigated 2,771 cases in 2019. Of these 2,333 were cleared, for a clearance rate of 84%.

Operations Bureau

School Resource Officers

The Kingsport Police Department continues to maintain an excellent working relationship with the Kingsport City Schools. Two officers are dedicated to Dobyns-Bennett High School while John Sevier

Middle School and Ross N. Robinson Middle School have one officer assigned to each school. Additionally, four part-time officers share responsibilities for the elementary schools. For the year 2019, the SROs at Dobyns-Bennett investigated one hundred eighty-two incidents while the SRO at John Sevier investigated forty-four incidents and the SRO at Robinson investigated fifty-three incidents respectively.

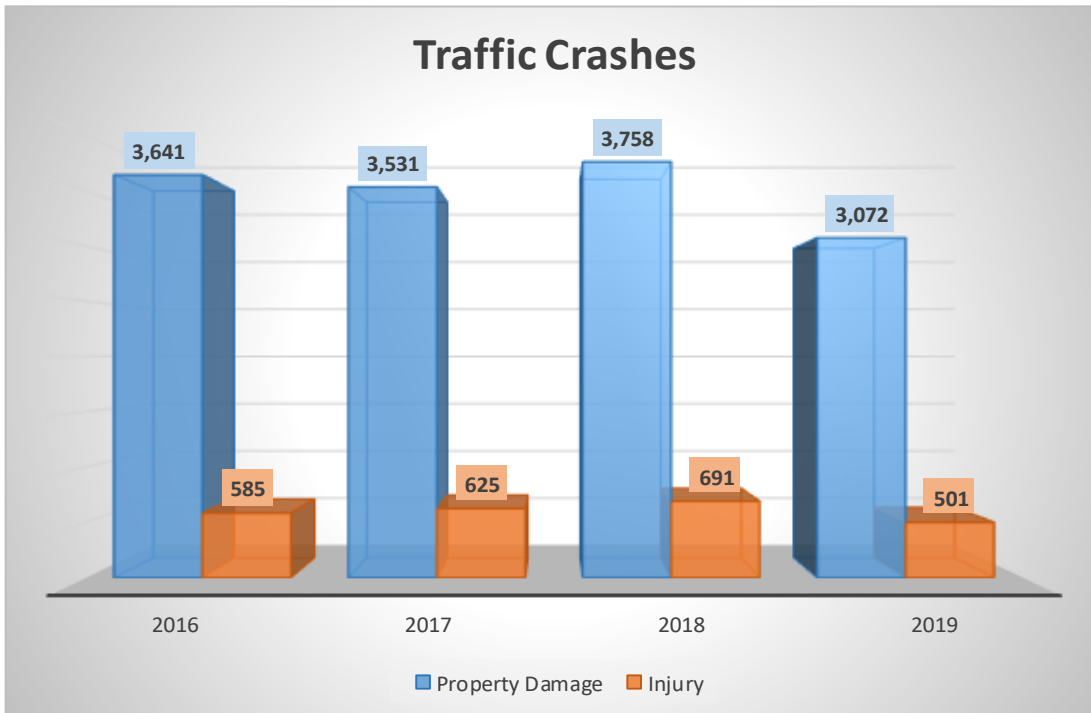

Kingsport Police Department Patrol Officers conducted 2,146 school “walk-thrus” at all city schools in 2019, to include the Palmer Center and St. Dominic Catholic School. This averages out to be approximately 12 school “walk-thrus” performed per school day.

Operations Bureau

Traffic Enforcement Unit

There were 3,573 traffic crashes investigated by members of the Traffic Unit and Patrol Division in 2019. Of those crashes, there were (12) twelve fatal crashes, resulting in the deaths of (14) fourteen people, and 501 personal injury crashes that resulted in the injury or potential injury to 687 occupants or pedestrians. The total number of crashes decreased compared to 2018 (4,461), along with a decrease in personal injury crashes and fatal crashes.

Operations Bureau

Traffic Enforcement Unit

One of the most common ways the Kingsport Police Department attempts to reduce traffic crashes is through diligent traffic enforcement and D.U.I. and seatbelt checkpoints. There were 10,742 citations issued in 2019 (this number includes violations of city ordinance as well as state law), with 46% of those being warning citations. Members of the department participated in two D.U.I. checkpoints, one Hands Across the Border event, and conducted four Seatbelt checkpoints in 2019. Additionally, as part of a Tennessee Highway Safety Office Grant, officers of the department conducted 94 saturation patrols on designated roadways within the city. The focus of these saturation patrols is traffic safety and the reduction of crashes and fatalities through traffic law enforcement.

Operations Bureau

Power Shift

The Power Shift Unit is comprised of a group of officers that are utilized to target what the police department considers “hot spots” of criminal activity. Members of this unit handle everything from juvenile vandalism to serious drug complaints. The Power Shift Unit also has the ability to answer calls city-wide wherever the greater need exists. Another benefit is being able to spend more time in different communities to address problems and concerns the residents may perceive. In addition, the officer can help them figure out a solution for the problem.

Operations Bureau

Special Weapons And Tactics

Commonly referred to as the “S.W.A.T. team”, thirteen members make up this unit, including one medic. Additionally, there are two highly trained hostage negotiators on 24-hour callout that provide a valuable resource to the team. The S.W.A.T. team is activated only under the most extraordinary of circumstances, where the team’s specialized training, weapons, and tactics can be utilized. The S.W.A.T. team was activated nine times in 2019.

The Kingsport Police Department utilizes four canines within its Patrol Division. Two of the canines are Belgian Malinois, one is a German Shepherd/Belgian Malinois mix, and one is an English Labrador Retriever. Three of the dogs are dual trained, meaning they are used for tracking, building searches, area searches, and apprehensions as part of their first job. They are also used as narcotics detectors as their secondary job. The Labrador is a single purpose explosives detection dog that was a donation from a private citizen. For the year 2019, the K-9 teams were utilized 174 times. These dogs are highly motivated and require motivated handlers. During weekly training, these handlers ensure that the dogs are ready for annual competition trials to maintain their certifications as well as to stay abreast of changes in law and tactics.

Operations Bureau

Bomb Squad

In 2019, the Kingsport Police Department Bomb Squad responded to twenty-one calls and safely disposed of various types of explosives. Due to current events, the Bomb Squad also responds to calls of suspicious packages. They are often utilized for mutual aid in assisting other jurisdictions before significant events.

Operations Bureau

Parking Enforcement

The Parking Enforcement Officer, along with our citizen volunteers, issued 361 citations for illegal parking. These were issued for violations of the various parking ordinances to include handicapped parking violations.

Operations Bureau

Search and Rescue

The department's Search and Rescue team is composed of six members selected from sworn police officers. Team members train monthly in visual tracking, local trail familiarization, and compass-assisted/GPS land navigation. All have attended and completed a TEMA (Tennessee Emergency Management Agency) certified visual man-tracking school. Along with the map, compass, and GPS, the team also utilizes thermal imaging devices, four-wheel drive ATV's and drone technology to accomplish missions and training. The team also trains with bloodhounds provided by Operations Captain Mike Roark. The Search and Rescue team responds mostly to calls of lost persons, but is also utilized to assist in searching for evidence in fields and wooded areas.

Operations Bureau

Crime Analysis

Crime analysis is an important part of detecting current and developing trends in criminal activity. When patterns are detected, the information can be pushed out to the appropriate division or unit for action. This task requires constant monitoring of data and reports as they come in to see if the resources that have been deployed are being effective. This is crucial when blended with the CompStat (Computerized Statistics) program for police supervision. The Crime Analyst is able to provide supervisors the most current information so decisions and adjustments can be made regarding manpower and resources.

Administrative Bureau

Introduction

It is the responsibility of the Administrative Bureau to provide technical support to all components within the organization of the Kingsport Police Department for orderly and efficient day-to-day functions.

Administrative Bureau

Corrections/Jail

The Kingsport City Jail is classified as a Type II facility by the State of Tennessee, meaning that prisoners are held for 72 hours or less. Correctional Officers are responsible for booking and processing persons arrested by police personnel. Once the prisoner is brought into the jail, the Correctional Officer begins the booking process, which includes a thorough search of the prisoner, securing the prisoner's property, a detailed medical screening, fingerprinting and photographing the prisoner, and securing them in a cell. Once incarcerated, Correctional Officers are responsible for the constant monitoring of the prisoners until they are released or transferred to another holding facility. In 2019, the Kingsport City Jail processed 2,432 physical arrests on over 5,200 charges and processed 149 subjects that were issued Misdemeanor Citations. Jail staff also served over 2,800 meals to prisoners that were incarcerated in our jail. The Kingsport City Jail is a state certified holding facility, falling under the rules and regulations of the Tennessee Corrections Institute. Our jail is inspected annually by a Detention Facilities Specialist from the Tennessee Corrections Institute, ensuring that our facility and staff are meeting the criteria mandated by the state.

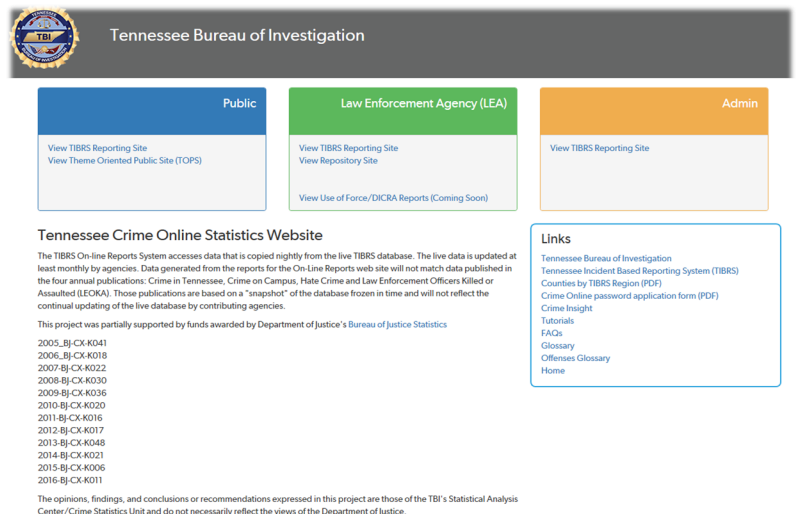

Administrative Bureau Records Division

In addition to personnel in the Records Division being the first interaction many citizens have at the police department, this division is also the central repository for nearly all police department generated paperwork. This includes handwritten handicap parking citations as well as closed major crime investigations. The Records Division is staffed by three full-time Records Clerks, one part-time Records Clerk, one full-time Court Clerk, and one full-time Receptionist. These clerks continue to ensure reporting accuracy of TIBRS data via validation checks of electronic reports submitted by officers. Additionally, they collect fines for city ordinance and Red Light Camera violations, fulfill citizen's requests for police reports, track all court subpoenas for departmental personnel, and assist patrol officers and detectives when requested.
