

COPLOGIC

Coplogic is a service from the Kingsport Police Department that allows you to file police reports online, either from your computer or smartphone.

Instead of going to the Justice Center or waiting for an officer to respond to the location, you can file reports at your convenience for no charge. The KPD will review the report and send a confirmation email to you once the report has been approved. Online reporting through Coplogic is free and available for use anytime.

To file a report, visit the Kingsport Police Department's webpage at <https://www.kingsporttn.gov/police-department> and look for the Online Reporting tab. You'll also find a step-by-step tutorial about how to make a report, as well as a list of frequently asked questions.

File a report on your smartphone by calling 1-833-827-4992.

Types of incidents that can be reported online:

- Harassment via Telephone, Text, or Social Media
- Lost Property
- Non-Criminal Property Damage
- Misdemeanor Theft
- Vandalism (Non-Domestic Violence Related)

Coplogic is not to be used for emergency situations. If it is an emergency situation, citizens should call central dispatch at 423-246-9111. If the emergency requires an immediate response, citizens should call 911.
